GRACE'S ACTS MAY BRING SUSPENSION

Standing of St. Louis Member in Republican Club Is Uncertain.

HAD WEEK "TO GET IN LINE."

Majority Said to Favor Removing Representative of Sixth District—Believe He Is Acting for Others.

Withholding action for a week in hope that he might "get in line," the Hamilton Club probably will take action toward expelling Oliver Grace, Representative from the Sixth District, at a meeting to-morrow night.

A resolution was framed at the meeting of the Republican organization Thursday night to suspend Grace from membership on account of his conduct in the senatorial fight at Jefferson City, but friends secured a postponement of action until it had been clearly shown that the St. Louis member would withdraw from the boiling fight. It was believed that in the meantime Grace could be induced by his old political friends to "be good for the sake of party harmony."

Grace's balloting, however, has not been encouraging to his home political club, for he has stuck doggedly to the Kerens bolt, despite all entreaties from his former political friends. An exception against the advice, it is said, of his own household, some prominent members of the club have made several visits to Grace at Jefferson City and have come away discouraged, only to Grace returned for Sunday at home. He was again in conference with some of his old friends, but took the credit of putting him into politics and the report went out that he probably would lay down his fight.

But Grace's return to Jefferson City attracted a majority of the members of the club, it was said, that would have been for Kerens, and he will be in but two more point sessions before the club takes its action. This probably will be in the form of a resolution so stringent that Grace will be expelled from the club.

A feature which makes it particularly bitter pill for the party promoters is that Grace is from St. Louis, and he was originally a Niedringhaus man, but a "change of heart" put him in the Kerens camp, and only once did he come out as "Senator."

Tuesday, January 17, when Niedringhaus received the entire vote of the Republicans in the House and Senate, with the exception of two—Rosen and Elliott of Jasper.

That was a memorable day in the senatorial fight. Kerens did not appear in Jefferson City with his "revenge movement" until after the election, and his house was hailed on every hand as "Senator."

Grace was one of the heroes of the hour, and he was hailed as the "revenge movement" until after the election, and his house was hailed on every hand as "Senator."

It is said that he has been in the House and Senate, with the exception of two—Rosen and Elliott of Jasper.

But that night Grace was again in the House and Senate, with the exception of two—Rosen and Elliott of Jasper.

Grace was one of the heroes of the hour, and he was hailed as the "revenge movement" until after the election, and his house was hailed on every hand as "Senator."

Not only has Grace caused Republican embarrassment by his flapping, but he stirred up a hornet's nest by his resolution which resulted in the investigation of Niedringhaus and the Republican campaign fund.

He caused more trouble than the Democrats, said a Republican yesterday, "that we were willing to forgive, because we did not really think that he framed the resolution or knew its full import when he introduced it."

"From all I have been able to gather," he continued, "that resolution was framed by a group of men who have been closely identified with Kerens. One of them got a lot of publicity out of the House and Senate investigation, and the other is one of Kerens' lieutenants. They knew that after Grace's flapping, the investigation would be taken up by the House and they wanted to make sure that he would be successful, and they picked him as the man to introduce the resolution."

Simon Harris, president of the club, said yesterday afternoon that he did not know who introduced the resolution, but that the resolution was taken by the organization. He declared, however, that sentiment seemed to be against Grace, and that the resolution was framed at the last meeting might be adopted.

If there is any influence in Grace's favor, it must be that of the Niedringhaus ranks, as the caucus nominee says that he does not want any coercion used to get the better of the resolution, and that the State Executive Committee at Jefferson City and three subsequent defections seem to bear out the wisdom of such a policy.

The train was making good speed when the accident occurred. The cause of the derailment is attributed to the springing of a switch point, which caused the cars to climb the rails.

Failure

To cure indigestion is largely due to the old theory that when the stomach becomes inactive it needs something to mechanically digest its contents, and cathartics, purgatives, etc., are used which give only temporary relief, because they direct by irritating the lining of the stomach.

Modern science recognizes the fact that it is the nerves that furnish motive power to digest the contents of the stomach. The nerves agitate and mix the food and stimulate the secretions. When they become weakened they lack energy and indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach result.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine

Will relieve obstinate cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and stomach trouble by strengthening these nerves.

INITIATION ENDS SERIOUSLY.

Evansville Student Critically Ill as Result of Hazing.

REPUBLICAN SPECIAL.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 24.—Initiation into the mysteries of the "Cannibals," a high-school secret society of this city, has left Richard Becker, a high-school student, in a serious condition, and he is confined to his bed and is being constantly attended by physicians.

After being put through the ritual of the society and the greater part of the mock initiation ceremonies, Becker was placed in a coffin, which was hauled through the streets of the city to a secluded spot, where the final degree was administered. The hazing "A R" were painted on each of his cheeks, and he was left in the coffin.

He managed to find his way home, where he has since been very ill. Besides other injuries the skin has blistered where the paint was applied, and his face is raw and swollen. Becker refused to give the names of the members of the society, which is now organized and has existed without the knowledge of the faculty.

An investigation is under way, and the announcement has been made that discovery of the offenders will lead to their expulsion from school.

BILL FOR POPULAR VOTE ON SENATOR TO BE OFFERED.

Representative Rucker Suggests That Present Disgraceful Session in Missouri Might Be Avoided.

The Republic Bureau.

Washington, Jan. 24.—If United States Senators were elected by the people one could not witness the disgraceful situations which now prevail in my own State, where two millionaires are bidding for a seat in the United States Senate.

Representative Rucker of Missouri made this statement to-day before the House committee on the election of President and Vice President, which had under consideration a bill for the purpose of providing for the election of Senators by direct vote of the people.

Mr. Rucker made a heated argument, in which he expressed a somewhat unfavorable opinion of a considerable proportion of the present membership of the Senate. He declared that a man possessed a "barrier" or could control one in his interest, it was impossible for him to obtain a seat in the Senate.

This statement brought forth a question from Mr. Gaines of West Virginia, chairman of the committee.

"Must we always assume," he said, "that all State Legislatures are corrupt and for sale?"

Mr. Rucker did not seem disposed to modify his opinion, but other members of the committee disagreed.

Mr. Rider of New York seemed to express the general opinion when he said that there were men in the Senate whose conduct did not entitle them to consideration or preference, and who never would have been elected by the people.

The committee does not believe a bill providing for the election of Senators by the people can be passed through the House by the committee's direction, and with its rejection in the Senate.

It was suggested that the Senate might be induced to give favorable consideration to the bill by the insertion of a provision increasing the senatorial term to eight years.

THOUGHT HE WAS HELD UP.

H. C. O'Havre Found He Had Spent His Money.

H. C. O'Havre of Maplewood created considerable excitement in that town last night by reporting that he had been held up twice by highwaymen. That the first time they took his money, amounting to about $2, and when they met him two hours later demanded his overcoat. He said he refused to give it, and they were dragging him by the feet to a remote place when they were frightened away by a stranger.

Justice of the Peace R. H. Stevens issued warrants for John Doe and Richard Roe on O'Havre's affidavit. O'Havre declared that he could identify the highwaymen. Deputy Sheriff John O'Brien started with O'Havre on the trail of the highwaymen. After searching for an hour they met Jim Nelson, a horseman, who said that he had seen the "cattlemen" lying in the middle of a road and dragged him to one side, keep from running over him.

O'Havre was taken to the nearest saloon, where he discovered that O'Havre had spent his $2 there. Consequently his warrant was not served.

STOLEN RUBBERS RECOVERED.

A case of rubbers, valued at $4, stolen from a wagon of the Boening Express Company and secured by the robber under the porch of Alex. Stabile's residence, at 221 East 10th street, was recovered by Deputy Sheriff C. W. Smith of St. Louis County Monday night.

It is supposed that when the thief took the rubbers he feared detection if he attempted to get away with them and replaced them under Stabile's porch with the intention of returning later. Stabile discovered the rubbers Monday afternoon and notified the Sheriff at Clayton. Olderworth went to the place and waited until nearly midnight, but the thief did not reappear. The goods were then restored to the express company.

NO ECONOMY IN FLOWER BILLS

Yale Students Spend $10,000 for Promenade Bouquets.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 24.—Suggestions of economy in flower bills were only heard of by a few Yale men who had "prom" guests to-night, and approximately $9,000 has been spent on flowers for the "prom" prom, gift by juniors and seniors who were asked to omit flowers this year because such gifts were "a needless expenditure" in the estimate of the Promenade Committee.

At any rate, their suggestion was to that effect and so published in the undergraduates' daily journal.

American beauty roses, costing from $12 to $15 a dozen, and delicate orchids at from $8 to $12 a dozen, were sold in greater quantities than ever before in this city. But the little Yale blue violet at $2 a hundred, against which there has been a hue and cry, because of its expensive, suffered somewhat of a decline in the market.

Said his fair guest at the "prom" to-night one junior of means a plenty sent a bouquet of American beauties costing $10, and instead of the girl who did not carry a big bouquet of some expensive flowers to-night was an exception and looked handsome.

Said a fashionable florist to The Republic representative: "It is true that the sale of violets has dropped off. Some young men followed the suggestion of economy, but what was saved in the total sum was spent on costly flowers like orchids and roses. The young women of society are used to having violets and other flowers and find them as necessary as their carriages."

CANAL BOOMS LUMBER TRADE.

Contracts on Isthmus Takes Supply From Interior Markets.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 24.—The demand for lumber for the Panama Canal interests has had the effect of putting the business in this section of the South in the best of shape.

It is said that the great Alger-Sullivan interests in Alabama and Florida are almost, if not entirely, out of the interior market, because of contracts on the Isthmus.

The demand has picked up so rapidly that there is no lumber to be had in from forty to sixty days in this part of the country. Several dealers and brokers from the North and East have been in the city lately and had a rather hard time to get what they were looking for.
